

This workshop rotation model allows children to learn and retain Biblical concepts through a variety of learning styles by rotating through various experience stations over a five week period.

Classrooms are transformed into kid friendly spaces that make the children eager to come back next week. 1st-5th graders are grouped by grade and families are grouped together to travel together to a different workshop each week.

Their traveling companion is a caring adult who has committed to shepherd a group of 8-10 children for one year. The Biblical concept and story are the same for five weeks, but taught in different, relevant and exciting ways by teachers gifted and passionate about their particular workshop.

CROSSWALK WORKSHOPS

B.C. Lab—Interactive software programs and internet connections enable the children to explore the Bible, research faith stories and reinforce Biblical concepts.

Creation Station—Children internalize the Biblical concepts through different art mediums.

BibleBuster Videos—Children walk into the fully equipped movie theater, pick-up a drink and a bag of popcorn and take a seat to watch and discuss a movie on this rotation's Bible concept.

HolyWord Studios—In this workshop children will act out the Bible story with a prewritten script or write a script themselves. Dramas are videotaped and viewed during class when time allows.

Revelations—Children will hear the story first hand from a costumed character who was actually there.

Temple Time—In this room children will learn Bible skills, research geographical settings or play exciting games to test their knowledge of each concept or story.

Soul Café—Children prepare food items that are symbolic or representative of the Bible lesson or culture.

KNOW—A busy place where children will be creating ads or taping news reports as though Bible stories were happening right now.

The Masters Hands—Using different types of puppets, children will act out Bible stories and concepts.

Celebration Station—Music is a powerful retention tool. Children will celebrate God's Word through song and learn about worshipping Him.
